DIRECTIONS FROM PARIS - A10 (towards the Pont d'Aquitaine)

On the A10, follow the signs for Mérignac, which will lead you to the big suspension bridge (le Pont d'Aquitaine). Cross the bridge and follow signs for " Bordeaux-Centre Ville and/or Boulevards ". Avoid blue 'motorway' signs (rocade) and follow the white or green signs.

Continue to follow signs for the "Boulevards" which is one long inner ring road that has different names and which begins with "Boulevard Aliénor d'Aquitaine". Once you are on the boulevard, move into the right-hand lane but keep going straight on (follow signs for Mérignac airport). Follow the road and go straight on through "Place Ravesies" after which the name of the boulevard will change to "Boulevard Godard".

Along the boulevard, the various major crossroads have names that begin with "Barrière". When appropriate, move into the left-hand lane and go straight through the various traffic lights until you see the panel which indicates you are approaching "Barrière Judaïque". Keep in the left-hand lane. You will see a 'Total' service station on your left at traffic lights with a lane for turning left into a road called "Rue Georges Bonnac". Turn left into this road. Turn left at the second turning into a street called Rue de Vincennes. Go straight on until you reach a second set of traffic lights. Turn left on to Rue Judaïque. The school is immediately on your left-hand side.

PARKING : Rue Judaïque is a one-way street leading from the city centre out towards the boulevards. Visitors have to find a parking space either on the Rue Judaïque or in one of the other surrounding side streets.

THERE ARE ROADWORKS AT THE MOMENT FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE BORDEAUX TRAMWAY - PLEASE ALLOW EXTRA TIME FOR YOUR TRAVEL

We look forward to seeing you.
